DEATH RELIEVES PITIABLE CONDITION OF AGED COUPLE

John Polk and Wife, Found in Unconscious Condition at Their Home, Near Town--Had Been Living Alone for Some Time.

In a helpless condition and too feeble to make an outcry for assistance, John Polk, aged eighty-one years, was found lying on the doorstep of his little home near Cloverport on Saturday afternoon, and when picked up by a neighbor was in a state of unconsciousness. In the house his wife, aged seventy-two years, was found with her lower limbs on the floor and her body on the bed. She, too, was in an unconscious condition when found. How long this aged couple had been in this condition is not known, but the supposition is they had become helpless on Friday and had been lying in their respective condition when found for over twenty-four hours.

Without regaining consciousness or strength sufficient to relate the circumstances that caused them to fall in the positions in which they were found, both Mr. Polk and his wife died on Monday evening, Mrs. Polk at 5:30 o'clock and her husband an hour and half later. Circumstances, however, lead to the belief that Mr. Polk in trying to descend the steps leading to the ground, had fallen, and his wife in attempting to go to his assistance, had also fallen and was too feeble to arise.

This aged couple had been living alone for sometime and had been very feeble and in an almost helpless condition for several months. They were in meagre circumstances, and, it is said, felt too poor to employ assistance.

When the state of their condition was learned the people of the community went to their assistance and made their surroundings comfortable until death relieved them of their sufferings.

The bodies were brought to Cloverport and were buried in the city cemetery Tuesday afternoon.

The couple are well known young people of our town and are quite popular.

The 11 o'clock hour is very flattering.

R. M. Jolly, Sr., was in Louisville Friday on a business trip.

The public school opened here last Monday with Miss Mary Joe Mattingly, of Axtel, as principal, and Mrs. Leal Pote, of Bewleyville, as assistant. The attendance was excellent, the best we have had for a long time.

Regular Union prayer meeting at the Baptist church next Thursday evening promptly at 7:30 o'clock. Everybody is cordially invited to come.

Miss Fannie Board, of Louisville, and Miss Vera Russell, of Waverly, Ky., are visitors of Mrs. P. E. Dempster. Miss Russell returned home last Tuesday.

Mrs. Sam Bishoff and daughter, Elizabeth, of Cloverport, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Bishoff.

Raymond and Douglas Brashear will return to their home in Owensboro this week, after being the guests of their uncle, J. R. Wimp, for several days.

Miss Ola Smith left Sunday for Bowling Green to accept a position in a telephone office.

Rev. E. W. Graves preached a most practical sermon at his Sunday morning service on the ninth commandment. Fault finding unjust criticisms, slander and gossip were all dealt with in a forceful but kindly way which cannot fail to accomplish good. If it were the custom of the clergy to deal more frequently with these very homely but hurtful sins which are so common rather than in abstract platitudes, we would get more practical help from the pulpit, and a better and higher plane of living would result.

DIED IN LOUISVILLE.

Remains of Wm. H. Dhonau Brought Here For Burial.

Wm. H. Dhonau, brother of Mrs. Christiana Hamman, of this city, died at the Norton Infirmary, Louisville, Ky., Aug. 24, 1906, at eleven P. M.

Altho he had been in poor health for two years his strength never began to fail him until last January and from that time on all that physicians could do for him was to no avail.

As a last resort he was taken to Louisville Aug. 20, where he underwent an operation on the 24th, which at first seemed to be successful, but on the fifth day thereafter he closed his eyes in that sleep from which none waken.

Mr. Dhonau was born near Rome, Perry county, Ind., Oct. 3, 1860 and lived there until seven years of age when his parents moved to Breckenridge co., Ky., settling on a farm near Cloverport.

On Oct. 23, 1890 Mr. Dhonau was married to Miss Ada Meador, daughter of James Meador, and to this union four children were born.

Besides his wife and children Mr. Dhonau is survived by one brother, Albert Dhonau of Evansville and five sisters Mrs. C. Fuchs, of Tell City, Mrs. P. Dick, of German Ridge, Mrs. W. Saunders, Miss Harriet Dhonau and Mrs. C. Hamman of this city.

In 1892 Mr. Dhonau moved to Charleston Mo., where he engaged very extensively in farming for ten years when on account of his wife's health he returned to Kentucky and located on a farm near Ekron, where he was living at the time of his death. In the death of Wm. Dhonau we realize a good man, a kind husband and a loving father, has passed from among us and as such he was liked and admired by all who knew him, for his true worth.

The remains were brought to this city Wednesday, and taken to the home of his sister Mrs. C. Hamman, where they laid in state until Aug. 30 when the funeral was conducted from the Presbyterian Church at 1:30 P. M. by Rev. E. W. Graves, the pastor, assisted by Rev. B. M. Currie, of the Methodist Church.

The services were very impressive being in charge of the Ekron and Cloverport lodges of Woodmen of America, of which organization Mr. Dhonau was a member, carrying insurance with same. Interment was at city cemetery.

Mrs. Robert Polk returned from Cincinnati and Frankfort Monday evening accompanied by Mrs. L. Tobin, Jr., of Frankfort, who will be her guest for a week.

Wilbur Hamman will leave Sept. 10 for Centre College, at Danville, Ky., where he will enter upon a four year classical course of study.

Rheumatism is not incurable. Stubborn? Yes! But Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy will if faithfully used, drive it out of the system. Its blood that's at fault. Poisonous crystals like sand get into the joints and muscles. Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy prevents this. It drives Rheumatism from the blood and then Rheumatism dies. We recommend and sell it.
